

Māori Crown relationship skills survey

This survey is intended to assess [name of agency]'s capability to support the Māori Crown relationship. It does this by gauging staff confidence in their abilities in various competencies.

The results will be used to inform and prioritise training available to staff to build capability. Results will be aggregated to ensure anonymity.

Categories will be merged where responses may otherwise be identifiable.

Please consider your confidence levels in a work context and in relation to your previous experience and ability to undertake relevant work.
