Ngati Porou Claims Settlement Bill

Government Bill

Explanatory note

General policy statement

This Bill gives effect to the deed of settlement entered into by the Crown and Ngati Porou on 22 December 2010 and in which the Crown and Ngati Porou agree to a final settlement of the Ngati Porou historical claims.

Part 1 of this Bill—

- records the acknowledgements and apology given by the Crown to Ngati Porou in the deed of settlement; and
- gives effect to the agreement of Ngati Porou to a final settlement of all Ngati Porou's historical claims.

Part 2 of this Bill sets out the cultural redress provided to Ngati Porou, including—

- the Crown's acknowledgement of the cultural significance of certain conservation lands for Ngati Porou and provision for a strategic conservation relationship between Ngati Porou and the Department of Conservation; and
- the provision of protocols and statutory acknowledgements; and
- provision for the vesting of certain cultural redress properties.

Part 3 of the Bill sets out the commercial redress provided to Ngati Porou in relation to—

- commercial redress and deferred selection properties; and
- licensed and unlicensed land; and
- the right of first refusal over certain properties.

Part 4 provides for the dissolution of Te Runanga o Ngati Porou and the Porou Ariki Trust, the transfer of assets and liabilities, transitional taxation arrangements, and consequential matters.

Clause by clause analysis

Clause 1 is the title clause.

Clause 2 is the commencement clause.

Part 1

Purpose of Act, acknowledgements and apology, interpretation provisions, settlement of historical claims, and miscellaneous matters

Subpart 1—Preliminary matters

Clause 3 sets out the purpose of the Bill.

Clause 4 states that the Bill, when enacted, will bind the Crown.

Clause 5 provides an outline of the Bill, as a guide to its structure.

Clause 6 provides for the inclusion of the acknowledgements and apology offered by the Crown, as set out in the deed of settlement.

Clauses 7 and 8 record the acknowledgements and apology of the Crown, in English and in te reo Maori.

Subpart 2—Interpretation

Clause 9 requires that the Bill is to be interpreted to best further the agreements reached in the deed of settlement.

Clause 10 defines terms used in the Bill.

Clause 11 defines Ngati Porou as the collective of individuals descending from the named Ngati Porou tipuna, and their families and hapu. The hapu are listed in Schedule 1.

MM
KH

Clause 12 defines the historical claims of Ngati Porou that are settled by the deed of settlement. These are all the claims, on whatever basis they may be founded, against acts or omissions of the Crown occurring before 21 September 1992. The term includes all claims to the Waitangi Tribunal, but does not include any claims that may have been made or may in future be made that relate to acts or omissions of the Crown occurring on or after 21 September 1992. This wording gives effect to the definition of historical claims in the deed of settlement.

Subpart 3—Settlement of historical claims

Historical claims settled and jurisdiction of courts, etc, removed Clause 13 provides that the historical claims are settled finally, removes the jurisdiction of courts, tribunals, and other judicial bodies in respect of the historical claims of Ngati Porou and the settlement redress provided for in the deed of settlement and the Bill.

Amendment to Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975

Clause 14 amends the Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975 to exclude the jurisdiction of the Waitangi Tribunal, as provided for by clause 13.

Protections no longer apply

Clauses 15 and 16 provide that the specified enactments no longer apply to the relevant land and remove the memorials from the computer registers relating to that land.

Subpart 4—Miscellaneous matters

Clauses 17 to 19 provide an exception to the rule against perpetuities, specify that unless otherwise stated, actions or matters occur on or take effect from the settlement date, and require that the deed of settlement is to be available for inspection or purchase.

Part 2

Cultural redress

Clause 20 clarifies that the Crown is not prevented, by virtue of having provided certain redress to Ngati Porou, from providing the same or similar redress to other persons or iwi that is consistent with the redress to Ngati Porou.

Subpart 1—Strategic conservation relationship

Preliminary matters

Clause 21 sets out definitions for this subpart.

Acknowledgement of cultural significance of conservation lands

Clause 22 provides the Crown's acknowledgement of the cultural significance of nga Paanga Whenua o Ngati Porou (the conservation lands).

Requirement for, and effect of, nga Whakahaere Takirua

Clauses 23 and 24 require the preparation of nga Whakahaere Takirua, a part of the East Coast Bay of Plenty Conservation Management Strategy and provide for its effect as if it were prepared and approved under the Conservation Act 1987.

Process for preparation of draft nga Whakahaere Takirua

Clauses 25 to 29 set out the process for the preparation of the draft nga Whakahaere Takirua (draft document), the consultation and notification required for that process, and for revision of the draft plan.

Approval process

Clauses 30 and 31 provide for the role of the Conservation Authority in the approval of the draft document.

*Review and amendment of nga Whakahaere
Takirua*

Clause 32 allows for review at any time of nga Whakahaere Takirua, in accordance with the process for its preparation, and requires a review to be commenced not later than 10 years after its approval.

Clause 33 sets out the procedure for amending nga Whakahaere Takirua.

Dispute resolution

Clauses 34 to 36 set out a process for dealing with disputes between the Director-General and the trustee (the parties).

Ngati Porou plan

Clause 37 provides for the status of any plan relating to conservation or natural resource matters that Ngati Porou may prepare in relation to its area of interest.

Subpart 2—Protocols

Clauses 38 to 43 provide for the relevant Ministers to issue protocols to the trustee in respect of conservation, Crown minerals, and taonga tuturu; and include limits to the rights arising under the protocols.

Subpart 3—Statutory acknowledgement

Clauses 44 to 56 set out the Crown's acknowledgement of the statements of association of Ngati Porou with certain statutory areas; these clauses state the purposes of the acknowledgement, and how it affects specified decision making by local authorities, the Environment Court, and the New Zealand Historic Places Trust. The limits of the acknowledgement are specified.

Subpart 4—Cultural redress properties

Clause 57 lists the cultural redress properties.

Sites vested in fee simple subject to conservation covenants

Clauses 58 to 62 provide for certain conservation areas to be freed of that status and vested in the trustee in fee simple, subject to conservation covenants.

Sites vested in fee simple to be administered as scenic reserves

Clauses 63 to 69 provide for the existing status of certain sites to be revoked, the sites vested in the trustee in fee simple, and for those sites to be administered as scenic reserves for specified purposes under the Reserves Act 1977.

Sites vested in fee simple to be administered as local purpose reserves

Clauses 70 and 71 provide for the revocation of reserve status of 2 sites and their vesting in fee simple in the trustee, with provision for their administration for specified purposes.

Site vested in fee simple

Clause 72 vests Taitai in fee simple in the trustee.

Subpart 5—Provisions relating to vesting of cultural redress properties

Clauses 73 to 82 contain technical provisions to facilitate the vesting of the cultural redress properties.

Part 3
Commercial redress

Subpart 1—Transfer of commercial redress and deferred selection properties

Clauses 83 to 89 contain provisions for the transfer of commercial redress and deferred selection properties and provide for the creation of computer freehold registers for the properties and related matters.

Subpart 2—Licensed land

Clauses 90 to 92 contain technical provisions to facilitate the transfer of licensed land in fee simple to the trustee.

Subpart 3—Unlicensed land

Clause 93 removes the status of Crown forest land from the unlicensed land and provides for any associated assets to cease being Crown forest assets.

Subpart 4—Access to protected sites

Clauses 94 to 97 provide a right of access to protected sites such as wahi tapu, wahi tapu areas, and registered places for Maori for whom the sites are of special spiritual, cultural, or historical significance.

Subpart 5—Right of first refusal in relation to RFR land

Clauses 98 to 126 provide the trustee with a right of first refusal for 170 years in relation to land defined as RFR land, as set out in the deed of settlement. The owner of RFR land must not dispose of the land other than to the trustee (or the nominee of the trustee), without first offering it to the trustee on the same or better terms, unless a specified exemption applies.

Clause 127 provides that the RFR redress does not affect the Crown's ability to dispose of Crown bodies.

Clause 128 provides that the RFR redress is unaffected by any change to, or replacement of, the trust and trustee.

Part 4 Transitional arrangements and miscellaneous matters

Subpart 1—Transitional arrangements for governance reorganisation

Clauses 129 to 131 provide definitions relevant to this subpart, and for the dissolution of Te Runanga o Ngati Porou (the Maori Trust Board of that name) and the Porou Ariki Trust.

Clause 132 provides for how the assets and liabilities of the 2 dissolved trusts are, upon the dissolution of those trusts, to vest in the trustee.

Provisions relating to Maori Fisheries Act 2004 matters

Clauses 133 to 137 override certain restrictions of the Maori Fisheries Act 2004 (the 2004 Act) that relate to the transfer of the fisheries settlement assets of Ngati Porou. These clauses also recognise Te Runanganui o Ngati Porou (Te Runanganui) in place of the mandated iwi organisation recognised under the 2004 Act. In addition, the trust deed is approved under clause 134 as the constitutional document of Te Runanganui as the new mandated iwi organisation for Ngati Porou for the purposes of the 2004 Act, as if it were approved under section 17 of that Act. These clauses set out the legal effect of the recognition of Te Runanganui as the new mandated iwi organisation and provide an immunity for Te Ohu Kai Moana Trustee Limited in respect of its actions deemed to have been taken under this subpart.

Other transitional matters

Clauses 138 to 149 are transitional provisions relating to the governance arrangements of Te Runanganui and the trustee.

Subpart 2—Transitional taxation provisions

Clauses 150 to 152 provide for the taxation status arising as a result of the reorganisation of the governance of Ngati Porou, so that the changes in governance structure are tax-neutral.

Subpart 3—Consequential repeal, revocations, and amendments

Clauses 153 to 155 provide for the repeal of Te Runanga o Ngati Porou Act 1987, the revocation of various regulatory provisions no longer required, and an amendment to the Electoral (Iwi Organisation and Other Maori Organisation) Regulations 2008.

6 Acknowledgements and apology

- (1) Sections 7 and 8 record in English and in te reo Maori the acknowledgements of, and the apology offered to Ngati Porou by, the Crown in the deed of settlement.
- (2) The acknowledgements and apology are to be read in conjunction with the account of the historical relations between Ngati Porou and the Crown, recorded in Part 3 of the deed of settlement.

7 The Crown's acknowledgements in English and te reo Maori*Ngati Porou has honoured its Treaty obligations*

- (1) The Crown acknowledges that, as a Treaty partner, Ngati Porou has fulfilled its obligations under the Treaty of Waitangi.
- (2) The Crown also acknowledges the significant contribution that Ngati Porou, its rangatira, whanau and hapu have made to New Zealand including military service in many parts of the world, as well as to the economy, education, farming, politics, culture, arts, public service and business.
- (3) The Crown acknowledges that, despite Ngati Porou fulfilling its Treaty obligations, the Crown has breached the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles in a number of respects. The Crown also acknowledges that, despite Ngati Porou's significant contribution to New Zealand, it has failed to address the long-standing grievances of Ngati Porou in an appropriate manner, and that recognition of Ngati Porou grievances is long overdue.

Conflict in 1865 and its aftermath

- (4) The Crown acknowledges that some Ngati Porou today are aggrieved at the role of the Crown in the fighting on the East Coast in 1865.
- (5) The Crown acknowledges that the detention without trial of some Ngati Porou who suffered in harsh conditions on the Chatham Islands for more than 2 years between 1866 and 1868 was an injustice and a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.

Native land laws and Native Land Court

- (6) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it did not consult Ngati Porou about the introduction of the native land laws; and
 - (b) the resulting individualisation of land tenure was inconsistent with Ngati Porou tikanga; and
 - (c) some key Crown goals in introducing these laws were to make Ngati Porou land available for European settlement, and eventually to detribalise Ngati Porou and assimilate them to European culture; and
 - (d) the individualisation of land tenure made Ngati Porou land more susceptible to alienation, and quickly had a severe impact on Ngati Porou as nearly two thirds of their land had its title individualised between 1874 and 1886; and
 - (e) the individualisation of land tenure also made Ngati Porou land susceptible to fragmentation and partition, making it difficult for Ngati Porou to access the benefits of the modern economy; and
 - (f) it refused to provide a means for the collective administration of Ngati Porou land in the native land legislation until 1894 and this was a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (7) The Crown acknowledges that it promoted legislation that had the effect of allowing the sale of several Ngati Porou blocks to be completed despite these transactions having failed to comply with all the requirements of the native land laws that governed the alienation of Maori land at the time the transactions were entered into.
- (8) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it required Ngati Porou to engage with the Native Land Court if they wanted to participate in the modern economy; and
 - (b) the Court's processes could be expensive, disruptive, and were inconsistent with Ngati Porou tikanga; and that Ngati Porou had to sell some land to meet the costs of surveys that were part of this process.

Crown land purchasing

- (9) The Crown acknowledges that its land purchase agents sometimes opened negotiations to purchase Ngati Porou land without adequately identifying and consulting with all the owners.
- (10) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it failed to exercise its monopoly powers in a reasonable manner when it purchased blocks such as Tapatu and Waitangirua and caused Ngati Porou to lose opportunities to lease these blocks; and
 - (b) this misuse of its monopoly powers breached the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.

Crown provisions for administration of Ngati Porou land

- (11) The Crown acknowledges that it failed to provide for Ngati Porou beneficial owners to be involved in the development of policy for the administration of their land vested in the East Coast Trust once it became clear that this Trust would have a long term existence, and that this was a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (12) The Crown acknowledges that it did not allow Ngati Porou to select any of the members of the Tairāwhiti Māori Land Board. The Crown also acknowledges that the compulsory vesting of more than 35 000 acres of Ngati Porou land in this Board between 1906 and 1909 was a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.

Native townships

- (13) The Crown acknowledges that its failure to seek consent from the landowners before establishing a township at Te Puia under the Native Townships Act 1895 was a breach of the Treaty of Waitangi and its principles.
- (14) The Crown acknowledges that the Native Townships Act 1895 allowed the Crown to take ownership of roads and public reserves in the townships without paying compensation to the owners.
- (15) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it established Waipiro township closer to Te Puia than the 10 miles prescribed by the native townships legislation as the minimum distance required between townships; and

- (b) it was slow to distribute rents collected on some native townships on the East Coast; and
- (c) it did not fully comply with the valuation provisions of the native land laws when purchasing Te Puia township; and
- (d) it converted a number of fixed-term leases at Tuatini, Waipiro and Te Araroa to perpetual leases despite Ngati Porou's strong opposition.

Public works takings

- (16) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) it compulsorily acquired Ngati Porou land for public purposes on more than 2 000 occasions; and
 - (b) some land was taken for roads without compensation; and
 - (c) Ngati Porou lost some land of great importance in public works takings; and
 - (d) the Crown's public works takings are a significant grievance for Ngati Porou.

Development schemes

- (17) The Crown acknowledges that—
- (a) its administration of development schemes deprived Ngati Porou of effective control of large areas of their land for many years; and
 - (b) the Crown charged the costs of development schemes against the land for which they were incurred; and
 - (c) the return of land to Ngati Porou control was frequently delayed by the need to reduce the large debts which had accumulated against development scheme land to manageable levels; and
 - (d) some of the land returned to Ngati Porou from development schemes was returned carrying debt; and
 - (e) the development schemes did not achieve the outcomes that Ngati Porou were led to expect, and it was difficult for Ngati Porou to farm profitably some of the land returned to them.

Consolidation schemes and amalgamation

- (18) The Crown acknowledges that—

mm
AK

- (a) the consolidation schemes carried out by the Crown of what were deemed to be “uneconomic interests” sometimes resulted in Ngati Porou losing their interests in land to which they had customary connections, and acquiring interests in land to which they had none; and
- (b) the consolidation schemes did not stop the process of fragmentation that continued as each successive generation died; and
- (c) owners in some blocks had their interests amalgamated into larger blocks for inclusion in development schemes against their wishes; and
- (d) no provision was made at the time of amalgamation for the owners of contributing blocks subsequently to withdraw their land.

Compulsory acquisition of uneconomic interests

- (19) The Crown acknowledges that the compulsory acquisition of uneconomic interests in Maori land between 1953 and 1974 by the Maori Trustee deprived many Ngati Porou of their turangawaewae.

Waiapu River and erosion

- (20) The Crown acknowledges the special relationship Ngati Porou have with the Waiapu River and that, in attempting to provide for the effective administration of the East Coast’s natural resources, it vested control of that river in the Poverty Bay Catchment Board without consulting Ngati Porou.
- (21) The Crown acknowledges that deforestation in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries fuelled significant acceleration of erosion and flooding that has had a devastating impact on Ngati Porou rohe wide. It also acknowledges that the measures it adopted to address this problem failed effectively to resolve it.

Petroleum

- (22) The Crown acknowledges that its nationalisation of petroleum resources in New Zealand in 1937 caused a great sense of grievance within Ngati Porou that is still held today.

Socio-economic issues

- (23) The Crown acknowledges the significant harm Ngati Porou children suffered by being punished for speaking their own language in Crown-established schools for many decades. It also acknowledges that the education system historically had low expectations for Maori academic achievement, and that the educational achievements of students in East Coast schools have lagged well behind those of other New Zealand children.

- (24) The Crown acknowledges that its policies contributed to most Ngati Porou now living outside their rohe, and Ngati Porou living on the East Coast have endured social deprivation for too long.
- (25) The Crown acknowledges that the health of Ngati Porou living on the East Coast has been worse than that of many other New Zealanders, and they have not had the same opportunities in life that many other New Zealanders have enjoyed.

- (4) To avoid doubt,—

 - (b) subsection (3) does not affect the ability of a court to award costs incurred by the trustee in enforcing the protocol under subsection (2).

 - (b) no person, in considering a matter or making a decision or recommendation under legislation or a bylaw, may give greater or lesser weight to the association of Ngati Porou with a statutory area (as described in a statement of association) than that person would give under the relevant legislation or bylaw if no statutory acknowledgement existed in respect of the statutory area.
- (2) Subsection (1)(b) does not affect the operation of subsection (1)(a).

54 Rights not affected

Except as expressly provided in this subpart, the statutory acknowledgement does not affect the lawful rights or interests of any person who is not a party to the deed of settlement.

KH

- (b) gives rise to a right for any person to terminate or cancel any contract or arrangement, to accelerate the performance of an obligation, to impose a penalty, or to increase a charge; or
- (c) places Te Runanga, the trustee, the Crown, or any other person or body in breach of an enactment, rule of law, or contract that prohibits, restricts, or regulates the assignment or transfer of an asset or liability or the disclosure of information; or

- (2) Contracts and other instruments are binding on, and enforceable by, against, or in favour of, the trustee as if the contracts or other instruments had been entered into by, made with, given to or by, or addressed to or by, the trustee and not Te Runanga.

141 Status of existing securities

- (1) A security held by Te Runanga as security for a debt or other liability to the board of Te Runanga incurred before the commencement of this Act—
 - (a) is available to the trustee as security for the discharge of that debt or liability; and
 - (b) if the security extends to future or prospective debts or liabilities, is available as security for the discharge of debts or liabilities to the trustee incurred on or after the commencement of this Act.

MM
KH

- (2) The trustee is entitled to the same rights and priorities, and is subject to the same liabilities, in relation to the security as Te Runanga would be if this Act had not been passed.

142 Books and documents to remain evidence

- (1) A document, matter, or thing that would have been admissible in evidence for or against Te Runanga is, on and after the commencement of this Act, admissible in evidence for or against the trustee.
- (2) For the purpose of this section, document has the same meaning as in section 48G of the Evidence Act 1908.

143 Registers

- (1) The Registrar-General or any other person charged with keeping books or registers is not required to change the name of Te Runanga to the names of the trustee in the books or registers or in a document, solely because of the provisions of this subpart.
- (2) If the trustee presents an instrument referred to in subsection (3) to a registrar or other person, the presentation of that instrument is, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, sufficient proof that the property is vested in the trustee, as specified in the instrument.
- (3) For the purposes of this section, the instrument need not be an instrument of transfer, but must—
- (a) be executed or purport to be executed by the trustee; and
 - (b) relate to assets or liabilities held, managed, or controlled by Te Runanga or any entity wholly or partly owned or controlled by the board of Te Runanga immediately before the commencement of this Act; and commencement of this Act who becomes an employee of the trustee on the commencement of this Act.

145 Liability of employees and agents

- (2) This section applies only—
- (a) in the absence of actual fraud; and
 - (b) if the act or omission does not amount to an offence under any enactment or rule of law.

146 Transfer of employees

On and from the commencement of this Act, each employee of Te Runanga ceases to be an employee of the board and becomes an employee of the trustee.

147 Protection of terms and conditions of employment

- (1) The employment of a transferred employee must be on terms and conditions no less favourable to the transferred employee than those applying to the employee immediately before the commencement of this Act.
- (2) Subsection (1)—
- (a) continues to apply to the terms and conditions of employment of a transferred employee until they are varied by agreement between the transferred employee and the trustee; and
 - (b) does not apply to a transferred employee who receives any subsequent appointment with the trustee.

148 Continuity of employment

For the purposes of an enactment, rule of law, determination, contract, or agreement relating to the employment of a transferred employee, the transfer of the employee from Te Runanga to the trustee does not, of itself, break the employment of that person, and the period of his or her employment by Te Runanga is to be regarded as having been a period of service with the trustee.

MA

149 No compensation for technical redundancy

A transferred employee is not entitled to receive any payment or any other benefit solely on the ground that—

- (a) the position held by the employee with Te Runanga has ceased to exist; or
- (b) the employee has ceased, as a result of his or her transfer to the trustee, to be an employee of Te Runanga.

 - (b) everything done by person A before the assets and liabilities become those of person B is deemed to have been done by person B on the date that it was done by person A.
 - (3) Income derived or expenditure incurred by person A before the assets and liabilities become those of person B does not become income derived or expenditure incurred by person B just because the assets and liabilities become those of person B.
 - (4) If income of person A derived from a financial arrangement, trading stock, revenue account property, or depreciable property is exempt income of person A but is not exempt income of person B,—
 - (a) person B is treated as having acquired the financial arrangement, trading stock, or revenue account property on the day that it becomes person B's property for a consideration that is its market value on that day; and
